Alex. M. Washburn 21st Color Show Ramps in Order at De Gray Reservoir

Today we offer The Star's 21st experimental run in process color—the most difficult job in printing. Some idea of how we do it may be gained by reading the text under the picture.

It's a pleasure to honor Hope's beautiful and gracious Miss Donna Connelly—the 1970 Miss Arkansas.

Your editor, out for a Sunday afternoon drive to Hot Springs, checked at least two of the boat-launching ramps at Arkadelphia's new De Gray dam and reservoir and found them paved and taking heavy traffic.

One of them is on the road to the dam and overlook, another off a side road a few miles farther north on State Highway 7. The big ramp at the western end of the dam, however, is still under construction and unusable.

The other ramps are satisfactorily steep, enabling boatmen to launch and recover craft without getting wet.

One caution should be noted: Formerly the Corps of Engineers insignia appeared on both roads leading off Highway 7—one to the engineers' headquarters below the dam, the other leading to the overlook and ramps. There's only one sign now, on the headquarters road. Drive past it going north and turn left on the next paved road, which is unmarked.

Planes 'Seed' Rain Onto Dry Florida

By NICK TATRO

Associated Press Writer — MIAMI (AP) — Despite a dangerous four-hour flight that left two airplanes battered and grounded, federal weather scientists Monday squeezed as much as three inches of rain onto drought-stricken South Florida during cloud-seeding missions.

But most of the rain fell on the heavily populated Gold Coast cities of Miami and Fort Lauderdale and didn't ease a drought farmers claim is having a disastrous effect on agriculture. They said much more rain is needed.

"I think we made believers out of some people," said Dr. James McFadden, project coordinator for the National Oceanographic and Atmospheric Administration.

"It's a first in a sense," he said. "Our objective was to mitigate the drought by producing rain, and we clearly demonstrated today the success of our seeding techniques."

It was the third successful mission in a row for the rain-makers who stimulated the clouds with silver-iodide flares.

Residents in South Miami reported flooded streets and mothball size hail pellets—the first precipitation since April 5.

Winds to 55 miles per hour and 2.14 inches of rain were reported at Coral Gables.

McFadden and project director Dr. William Woodley reported a DC6 airplane and a B57 jet have been grounded after a damaging battle with the clouds.

From October 1970 until Monday, 5.05 inches of rainfall had been recorded in South Florida compared to a normal 19.76 inches.

Carey Trial Opens at Little Rock

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The first-degree murder trial of Andrew Carey, 28, of Little Rock began in Pulaski Circuit Court Monday with the selection of seven jurors.

Carey is charged in the shooting of Eugene Preston, 18, of Leighton, Ala., whose body was found Sept. 18, 1969 near the Saline - Pulaski County Line. Carey was arrested Jan. 14, 1970 and charged with the shooting.

New Color Portrait of Hope's Miss Arkansas

Donna Jo Connelly

Donna Jo Connelly, Miss Arkansas 1970, who hails from Hope, entered the Miss Arkansas Pageant as Miss SCA, under sponsorship of the school's Student Senate.

The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Connelly, Route 2, Hope, Donna was born at Poteau, Okla., August 9, 1951. Her family moved from Oklahoma six years ago to Hope, where her father is in the poultry and livestock business. She has two sisters, Debby, 21, and Kimberly, 6, and a brother, Edwin, 11.

A 1969 graduate of Hope High School, Donna has completed one year of study at State College of Arkansas, where her beautiful lyric soprano voice earned her the second lead in an SCA musical. She sang in the college choir, in the choir of the First Baptist Church at Hope, and is a music major.

Donna is 5 feet, 6 inches tall, weighs 115 pounds, and has had two years of private voice lessons. Singing has been a part of her life since she was a little girl. She was a winner of the talent award in the Junior Miss Pageant and went on to become Hope's Junior Miss. She has always had a desire to reach out and touch other people's emotions through song, and that she did in the pageant finals with her magnificent rendition of "Who Will Buy" and "Love Is a Many-Splendored Thing."

Carillon Rings Out From Stone Mountain, Memorial to South

By WILLIAM L. CHAZE

Associated Press Writer

STONE MOUNTAIN, Ga. (AP) — It was almost noon and a group of youths with a tape recorder moved down a walkway extending about 30 yards out over a lake in Stone Mountain Park near Atlanta.

At the walkway's end the youths gathered around and beneath a 13-story steel and wood tower housing the 35 speakers of what is billed as the world's largest carillon.

The first of several daily concerts began a few minutes later, the music echoing off the blue water of the lake and the weather-stained granite hump of Stone Mountain.

The youths, in endless quest of the Holy Grail of the ultimate sound experience, were left in near-ecstasy by the completeness of the sound around them. They nudged each other and nodded their heads.

Beneath the speakers there was nothing but the music, amplified one million times.

The youths and a few older people were in a dream world of bells, fresh air, the smell of nearby pines and the reflection of the blue sky in the calm water of the lake.

Obvious to it all was Harbison Koch, a graying theatrical looking man enclosed about 100 yards away in a sound-proofed glass and concrete booth in a small amphitheater. Koch is the carillonneur.

Dressed in a gray plaid suit and slightly rumpled tie, Koch sat behind a large console, which looks much like the keyboard of an organ. The instrument's 732 bell tones are in a chamber beneath the booth.

Koch, a native of Kentucky, plays the $1.5 million carillon with dramatic flourishes of the hands, sometimes leaning far back on his small bench to gaze reflectively and moodily at the ceiling of the booth.

His circular, carpeted booth, plus and climatically controlled, is often surrounded by

This is The Star's 21st process color production—the second to use Eastman's color-balancing film known as Silver Mask. It was first used on the 20th production, "Hope Models Salute Spring," published March 30.

The original film used for in-plant color photography, Eastman's Tri-Mask, was discarded because of irregular results. The Star would get three good press runs, then the fourth would be disappointing. Color experts in New York City advised a representative we sent up there that The Star's operating procedure was "on the money" but Tri-Mask color-balancing film was giving trouble across the nation and our trade was returning to an older Eastman film, Silver Mask.

By way of explanation, the color-printing procedure is this: The Star has an 8x10 Berkey color separator, a Norwegian invention manufactured in New York, this being the first newspaper in America to buy one—right behind us being the Chicago Tribune.

First step is to make a black-and-white copy of the color transparency from the hand camera, "registering" it with the transparency, at the top of the big Berkey machine. This is the color correction step.

Then this "package" is projected onto each of four separation negatives, which are the size in which the picture will be published. The negatives themselves are black and white. They are exposed onto individual press plates, and then the press adds the four colors from different inks in four units of the press. A color proof from the combined negatives serves as a guide to the pressmen in applying the colors.

Today's separations were made by Garland Bosley, vice-president of Jungkind Photo-Graphic of Little Rock, our film supplier. Ordinarily this is done by the editor, but Mr. Bosley made the photographic run in the course of recalibrating the Berkey machine for the Silver Mask film.

His new data and electrical measurements have been turned over to the editor, who will resume operations and eventually turn the color work over to Billy Dan Jones, mechanical superintendent, and Gene Allen, head cameraman.

Bumpers Speaks for 'Quality Life'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Gov. Dale Bumpers said Monday night that "change is essential" and advocated that the people of Arkansas release their grip on the past and look to the future.

"Direction is what we must be concerned with," he said. Bumpers was the principal speaker at a dinner honoring the Arkansas congressional delegation.

Bumpers said one of his goals was to improve the lot of all Arkansans.

South Loses on Integration Senate Vote

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has passed the Nixon administration's school-desegregation-aid bill after turning back Southern attempts at restricting federal court powers in integration cases.

The Senate version of the legislation grants President Nixon the $1.5 billion he sought for helping schools desegregate more than a year ago but contains much tighter restrictions on spending the money than he originally wanted.

The administration agreed to the restrictions, however, while the bill was being worked out in a Senate Education subcommittee.

The 74-8 Senate vote Monday sent the legislation to the House.

The bill authorizes $500 million for the fiscal year starting July 1 and $1 billion the following year.

U.S. Favors Both Chinas for the UN

By JIM LUTHER

Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Amid the first thaw in Washington-Peking relations in 22 years, a presidential commission has recommended the Nixon administration press for U.N. seats for both Chinas.

The only criterion for U.N. membership, said the commission headed by Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge, should be allegiance to the charter of the international organization. This policy would allow dual seats for the Germans, Vietnamese and Koreans as well as mainland and Nationalist China.

Lodge, President Nixon's envoy to the Vatican, delivered the report of the 50-member commission to the White House Monday.

The report, which said the United Nations can work best if it includes all governments, was released as the United States and mainland China are moving ever so slightly toward improved relations.

A U.S. table-tennis team and three American newsmen were allowed in China earlier this month, and a Chinese team has been invited to visit the United States.

The Nixon administration also has dropped some embargoes on trade with China.

And the President told newsmen recently he would like to visit China sometime, but expressed doubt it would be during his term of office.

Edgar Snow, an American writer, says in a Life magazine story Chinese leader Mao Tse-tung told him he would be happy to talk to Nixon, in an official or unofficial capacity.

The State Department, in commenting Monday on Snow's article, confirmed Washington has sent feelers for better relations to Peking through third-party countries.

"It seems quite possible that representatives of those other governments made known our views to the People's Republic of China," said State Department spokesman Charles Bray. Bray did not mention any Chinese response to the U.S. overtures.

The commission, named by Nixon last July to study opinion on U.S. participation in the United Nations, reported:

"The commission has found growing public support in the U.S. for the involvement of the People's Republic of China in the work of the U.N. There is also a deep American commitment to the Continued representation of the Republic of China on Taiwan Nationalist in the U.N. ..."

Billy Sol Estes Is Paroled

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six years after entering prison under a 15-year federal sentence for mail fraud and conspiracy, Texas promoter Billie Sol Estes has been paroled to his brother's farm.

After an expedited hearing Monday, the U.S. Parole Board said the 46-year-old Estes can leave the LaTuna Federal Correctional Institution near El Paso, Tex., July 12.

Under terms of his parole, Estes cannot engage in "any self-employment or promotional type activity" unless cleared in advance with the parole board.

Board Chairman George J. Reed said Estes will live with his wife and four children in Abilene, Tex., and work in the farming operation of his brother John.

Although Estes was turned down for parole in his first try 15 months ago and was not scheduled for a rehearing until next December, Reed said new evidence caused the board to expedite a review. He said the evidence was confidential.

Before he entered the Leavenworth, Kan., federal prison March 5, 1965, Estes was one of the nation's most thoroughly investigated businessmen.

After hundreds of federal agents had poured through his extensive business dealings, Estes was convicted in 1963 for mail fraud and conspiracy to defraud.

The events came not long after the then vice president, Lyndon B. Johnson, had invited Estes to the 1961 inauguration of President John F. Kennedy and later had him appointed to a government advisory board for cotton allotments.

Estes also was prosecuted and convicted on state charges, but his conviction was reversed by the Supreme Court because of publicity surrounding the trial.

Arriving in Pecos, Tex., in 1951 with little more than a battered briefcase, Estes built a paper fortune around fertilizer, grain elevators, cotton allotments, a newspaper and a mortuary.

Showers Due in Arkansas Tonight

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Showers and a few thunderstorms were expected in Arkansas this afternoon and tonight.

The precipitation will be along and ahead of a cold front which is expected to move through the state tonight. The largest amounts of rainfall are expected in the northern portions of Arkansas.

The passage of the cold front will also produce a slight drop in temperatures by Wednesday.

Highs today were forecast in the 80s with highs Wednesday mostly in the 70s to low 80s.

Wedding Vows Are Repeated

MRS. RICHARD BRANDENBURG

Miss Patricia Frances Bradford of Ozan and Lt. Richard Brandenburg of the U.S. Air Force exchanged vows in a recent ceremony at the Wesley Foundation Chapel in Russellville.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bradford of Ozan and Lt. Col. (ret) and Mrs. Howard Brandenburg of Lynchburg, Va., formerly of Russellville.

Father Louis Stemac and the Rev. Charles Ramsay presided at the afternoon nuptial rite. The altar was flanked by two floor baskets of white mums. An arched candelabrum entwined with greenery and baby mums formed a background for the altar.

Pews were marked with white satin bows centered with large mums. Glen Brandenburg of Lynchburg, brother of the groom, lighted the candles preceding the ceremony.

Miss Kathy Sheffield of Mt. Ida, organist, presented traditional wedding music "Because" and "We've Only Just Begun."

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of organza and Venice lace with empire silhouette, full ball skirt, punchinello sleeves cuffed and caped with scallops of lace and a wedding ring neckline.

Her chapel-length train fell from the high waist into a handkerchief shape enhanced with a perky bow at the high waist. A lace petal headpiece trimmed in pearls secured her illusion silk veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis centered by a white orchid.

Miss Debbie Irvin of Little

Rock, a cousin of the bride, was maid of honor. She was attired in a baby blue floor-length empire gown with wedding ring neckline and bishop sleeves of mira mist. Her shoulder-length blue tulle veil was attached to a blue mira mist rose headband. She carried a nosegay of blue cushion mums nestled in white scalloped lace with white satin streamers.

Bridesmaids were Miss Jo Ann Irvin of Little Rock and Miss Carol and Miss Laura Parker of Russellville, cousins of the bride. Their blue gowns and accessories were identical to those of the honor attendant.

Miss Betsy Baker, cousin of the bride and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baker of Dardanelle, was flower girl. Her ensemble was a miniature of that worn by the bridesmaids. She carried a basket adorned with blue satin ribbon.

Bill Brandenburg, brother of the groom, was best man. Groomsmen were Dan Alterescu of Terre Haute, Ind., Paul Keller of Eudora and William Bradford of Ozan, brother of the bride. The groomsmen also served as ushers.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Bradford chose mauve lace with matching accessories and a white orchid corsage. The groom's mother was attired in aqua blue with matching accessories and carried a white gardenia.

Following the ceremony a reception was held, hosted by the bride's parents. Forming a receiving line were parents of the couple, the bride and groom and the bride's attendants.

The bride's table was covered with a white floor-length taffeta cloth with a full white net skirt. An arrangement of blue mums and bells of Ireland, flanked by white tapers in silver candelabrum, formed the centerpiece.

The three-tiered white wedding cake was topped with the traditional bride and groom figurine. Serving the cake were Mrs. W.W. Brown of Dardanelle, an aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Stephen Dobbs of Russellville. Miss Judy Dalton of Lake Village and Miss Jeannie Mays of Marshall ladled the punch.

Miss Jeanne Roberts of Mt. Ida presided at the guest book.

Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. Lloyd Warren and Mrs. Parker, aunts of the bride, and Mrs. Mae Love.

For her going-away outfit, the bride chose a coat dress ensemble of red, white and blue striped knit with red accessories. She pinned at her shoulder the orchid from her bridal bouquet.

Following a week's wedding trip through the Ozarks the bride will return to Arkansas Tech to complete the spring semester. At the semester's end she will join her husband at Sacramento, Calif., where he is stationed.

Among those from out-of-town attending the wedding and reception were:

Mr. and Mrs. Joe A. Irvin of Little Rock; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Alterescu of Silver Springs, Md.; Mrs. Dan Alterescu of Terre Haute, Ind.; Wiley Grubbs of

Television and Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — ABC's original musical Monday night, based on Al Capp's comic strip character L'il Abner, stacks up as the first attempt to fight pollution with song, dance and comedy.

It was a weird combination of fantasy, satire, "Beverly Hillsbillies" accents, some good choreography and occasionally a catchy tune. Unfortunately, it didn't hang together.

The Dogpatch characters impressed by a train ride they took across North Africa.

Mrs. C. Cook has returned home from a visit in Richardson, Tex., with Mr. and Mrs. George S. Helm.

Mrs. Molly Avitts, Flint, Mich., was here Sunday to see her brother, the Rev. Norris Steele, and family.

were out in force and in faithful reproduced costumes—L'il Abner, Daisy Mae, Mammy and Pappy Yokum. Then it went straight—and confusingly—into something like childhood classics. A witch gathered some Filthy Glops into her cave and they were scheming to destroy the world with pollution.

All this was accompanied by jokes referring to Benny Youngman, Spiro Agnew watches and prime-time television customs, plus a background of loud laughter that only could have been achieved by an audience of relatives of the cast.

There were obviously some problems about how to wind things up, so somebody like Miss America was introduced at the end, and she brought a giant vacuum cleaner that scooped up the Filthy Glops and ended the pollution problem.

Since pollution is not funny, and since we have been overexposed recently to the Dogpatch variety of entertainment—"Hee-Haw" is a prime example—the whole thing tended to leave the viewer cold—nay, frostbitten.

Bowl Game Is Awarded Phoenix, Ariz.

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla. (AP) — College football's crowded post-season family gained a 12th member Monday as Phoenix, Ariz., was awarded a major bowl game.

Still unnamed, the event at Arizona State University's 51,000-seat stadium will match the champion of the Western Athletic Conference with another collegiate power.

It was the first time since 1968 when Atlanta's Peach Bowl was certified—that the National Collegiate Athletic Association had okayed another post-season game.

"There has been concern about the availability of enough good teams for all the bowls," said Wade Stinson, chairman of the NCAA extra events committee.

"This area of the great Southwest has not been served by a bowl game, and we felt the expansion was in the best interest of the full NCAA membership."

Stinson is athletic director at Kansas University.

NCAA spokesman Charles Niernas said a contest would be held in the Phoenix area to select a name for the budding event.

The WAC includes Arizona State, the University of Texas at El Paso, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado State, Wyoming, Brigham Young and Utah.

Arizona State defeated North Carolina in the Peach Bowl last winter.

UTEP will have an option, however, if the school is the WAC king and is also invited to play in El Paso's Sun Bowl. It appeared to be a concession to the Sun Bowl, which reportedly

Bobcats Turn Back Gurdon by 8 to 2

By BILL MOORE
Star Sports Writer
Get the runs early and then coast on in.

That's what the Hope Bobcats did yesterday at Legion Field, as they scored seven runs in the first inning and then breezed on in for an 8-2 romp over the Gurdon Go-Devils.

Hope, still keeping a perfect, 5-0 season record, will host Blevins at 4 o'clock Wednesday.

Holding the Go-Devils to no runs in the top of the first, Hope came in to bat, and guess what happened?

Hope's first six batters (Sidney Waller, Buddy Ingram, Bill Moore, Bubba Powers, Johnny Turner, and Bill Rowland) all poled singles to score three runs with the bases still loaded and no outs.

Three more runs crossed the plate the same inning before the Gurdon hurler, Culp, could head for the dugout to rest before the next inning.

But those were all the runs needed by the Bobcats, as Richard Butler, who was credited with the win, only allowed two hits, and Lynn Norton, credited with the save, gave up only two hits.

Gurdon scored a run each in the second and fourth, while Hope scored the other lone run in the sixth inning.

Mets Shell Gibson; Cards Lose 11-2

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

The ailing Gibson suffered his earliest knockout in four years Monday night. The New York Mets rocked him for 10 hits and seven runs in 3 2-3 innings and routed the St. Louis Cardinals 11-2.

Blue, a hard-throwing 21-year-old southpaw, tamed the world champion Baltimore Orioles on four hits—he had a no-hitter for five innings—and the Oakland A's made off with a 1-0 triumph on Reggie Jackson's RBI single in the sixth inning. Blue became the American League's first five-game winner.

In the only other National League encounter, Philadelphia nipped Houston 2-1 on an eighth-inning tie-breaking home run by Willie Montanez. Elsewhere in the AL, it was California 8, Cleveland 0; Detroit 8, Kansas City 3, and Minnesota 7, Washington 2. Milwaukee at Boston was rained out.

The New York-St. Louis affair was billed as an early season mound classic between Gibson and Tom Seaver. But the Mets jumped on Gibby for two runs in the first inning, one in the third and four in the fourth. Ed Kranepool paced the 17-hit assault with four singles while Tommie Agee had a homer and a double.

Seaver, unbeaten in four decisions while the rest of the Mets' pitching staff has a combined 4-7 mark, breezed with a seven-hitter.

Gibson injured his left knee sliding into a base last season and has had it drained twice.

But the Mets weren't about to write off the veteran fireballer, who's won 193 big league games, even though Ken Boyer, a St. Louis coach, said it was "the hardest I've ever seen him hit." "The first hit I ever got in the majors was off Gibson in 1960," recalled Bob Aspromonte, "and I don't remember many after that. There's no doubt that he's the toughest pitcher I've ever faced."

Blue was in trouble twice against Baltimore. In the fourth, Frank Robinson reached third with one out on Sal Bando's throwing error on Paul Blair's grounder and Brooks Robinson fanned.

In the ninth, Merv Rettenmund and Frank Robinson singled with one down but Blair popped up and Brooks flied out.

Blue helped build the game's only run with a bunt single and Bert Campaneris dithered when the Orioles let his bunt roll and it stayed fair. Blue was picked off second and Joe Rudi grounded out before Jackson nicked Pat Dobson for the decisive single.

A pair of walks and Deron Johnson's RBI single gave Philadelphia a first-inning run but Houston matched it in the third on Joe Morgan's triple and Jim Wynn's double. Montanez then gave Rick Wise his first 1971 win with his lead off homer in the eighth off Tom Griffin.

California's Rudy May stopped Cleveland on three hits as the Indians suffered their sixth straight loss. Jim Spencer's two-run homer highlighted a four-run uprising in the fifth and the Angels even managed to get two runners home on Ken Berry's long sacrifice fly in the eighth.

Detroit snapped a 1-all tie with four runs in the third inning against Kansas City. After a pair of walks, Al Kaline singled home the lead run and another scored on Joe Keough's throwing error. Willie Horton then hammered the first of his two doubles for the third run and scored on Bill Freehan's single.

Harmon Killebrew and Tony Oliva supported Jim Perry's six-hit pitching with two-run homers as Minnesota whipped Washington. Killebrew also drove in a third run with a single. Perry has beaten the Senators 25 times in 31 lifetime decisions. Frank Howard and Tom McCraw homered for the losers.

Eastern Fleet Rated High for Derby

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — If Eastern Fleet runs as well as he did when he finished second in the Wood Memorial, he can bring Calumet Farm its eighth Kentucky Derby victory Saturday.

"If he runs like he did in the Florida Derby and the Wood, he can win," trainer Reggie Cornell said Monday before sending Eastern Fleet and Calumet's other Derby horse, Bold and Able, out for gallops.

He also said he didn't expect another performance from Eastern Fleet like the one he turned in when he finished sixth in last Saturday's seven-furlong Stepping Stone Purse that was won by Bold and Able.

Cornell also said he felt Bold and Able has a chance to win. However, the Derby's 1 1/4 miles appear to be too much for the son of Bold Lad.

As for his opposition, of which there will be plenty, Cornell said he thought Jim French was the horse to beat, even though the Santa Anita Derby winner has twice finished behind Eastern Fleet with a third in the Florida Derby and a fourth in the Wood.

John Campo, who trains Jim French for Frank J. Caldwell, agreed that his horse is the one to beat.

Contacted in New York, Campo said Jim French would arrive at Churchill Downs from Belmont Park Wednesday and that he would like to see a field of 15 or less.

The biggest field was 22 in 1928 when Reigh Count won. Two or three starters could come from today's one-mile Derby Trial, the final prep for the big race. Entered were Bopdavelle, On The Money, Prospect Hill, Vegas Vic, Martini Again, Rapid Tim, Fourrall and Jr's Arrowhead.

Pre-Derby activity was light at Churchill Downs Monday with none of the hopefuls working out and one more arriving.

Arthur A. Seeligson Jr.'s Unconscious, the California Derby winner and Santa Anita Derby runner-up who should draw strong support, arrived from California. Good backing also is expected or another entry, the George Poole trained pair of Wendell L. Rosso's Impetuousity, the Blue Grass Stakes winner, and Pastoral Stable's Twist The Axe, the Arkansas Derby winner and second in the Blue Grass.

The traditional 100,000 are expected to watch Calumet's bid for another Derby triumph. The race also will be televised from 5 p.m.-8 p.m., EDT, and broadcast on radio from 5:15 p.m.-5:45 p.m., both by CBS.

Calumet's record seven Derby wins were recorded by Whirlaway, 1941; Pensive, 1944; Citation, 1948; Ponder, 1949; Hill Gail, 1952; Iron Liege, 1957, and Tim Tam, 1958.

Carolina Settles Player Feud

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP) — The Carolina Cougars have settled their contract dispute over Jim McDaniels by agreement to pay a six-figure amount to another American Basketball Association club, the Utah Stars.

Vince Boryla, general manager of the Stars, said his team also would get two top choices from the Cougars and its pick of any Cougar player except Joe Caldwell.

Cougar owner Ted Munchak announced the six-figure settlement Monday but did not disclose the exact amount the Stars will receive for dropping their claim to McDaniels, the 7-foot All-American from Western Kentucky who was their No. 1 draft choice.

Candians and Stars Set for 5th Game

MONTREAL (AP) — Jean Beliveau says this is one of his most gratifying seasons—not because he is playing well, but because he is playing.

"When you reach a certain age, you never know when your legs will give way," said the Canadiens' 39-year-old captain Monday night, on the eve of the pivotal fifth game in the National Hockey League Stanley Cup semifinal series between the Canadiens and Minnesota North Stars.

"I am happy to have gone through the season. I still feel good. A little tired maybe, but still good," Beliveau, like many of his teammates, is impressed by the excellent showing of the North Stars in the series so far. Minnesota tied the best-of-7 affair Sunday night at 2-2 with a 5-2 victory over the Canadiens in Minnesota.

"Yes, you've got to give them credit," said Beliveau. "But we knew from the beginning that we would not walk through."

"And with good reason. First, judging from the way they beat St. Louis, they must be good. Not only that, they've got some good scorers in Danny Grant, Jean-Paul Parise and Bill Goldsworthy."

"Look at Murray Oliver. He's playing the best hockey he's ever played in his life. Also, Bobby Rousseau is playing well."

Beliveau also feels that the West Division of the NHL will be as strong as the East Division "pretty soon."

"The universal draft should even things up soon. Not only that, some of the players in our division will retire."

The Canadiens arrived home, late Monday morning and then headed to the hideaway in the Laurentians' north of Montreal, to prepare for tonight's game. Coach Al MacNeil was mum.

Ken Dryden, former All-American at Cornell University, has played all 11 playoff games for Montreal.

Meanwhile, the North Stars arrived here late Monday afternoon without two injured veterans—defenseman Doug Mohns and goalie Lorne "Gump" Worsley.

Mohns, has missed the entire series with a knee injury and Jackie Gordon, the rookie North Stars' coach, thought it would be better to leave Mohns at home.

Worsley suffered a groin injury in the pre-game warmup Saturday and his place was taken by Cesare Maniago. Maniago also played Sunday and will be in goal tonight with rookie Gilles Gilbert acting as his backup.

Odds Favor Bucks Over Bullets

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Game No. 3 of the National Basketball Association championship playoffs should find the Milwaukee Bucks upping their advantage to three-games-to-none Wednesday night when they meet the Baltimore Bullets in their best-of-seven series. The nationally televised (ABC) contest will be played at the Milwaukee Arena where the high-flying Bucks have won 38 of 40 games this season. The only home court losses suffered by Milwaukee were to the New York Knicks back in November and to the Atlanta Hawks on Jan. 22.

Since the Hawk defeat, the Bucks have won 15 straight at home before capacity crowds of 10,746.

In games played on Wednesday, the Bucks have won 11 of 13 in the regular season and split even in two playoff games.

An extremely young team, the Bucks realize they are in a position to become only the second team in NBA history to win the final series in four straight games.

"It would be nice to get next Sunday off, and the next three months besides," said Jon McGlocklin, Bucks guard.

The fourth game is scheduled to be played at Baltimore Friday night. A fifth game, if necessary, will be played at the Milwaukee Arena Saturday.

The last NBA team to win four straight in the final round was the 1959 Boston Celtics, who stopped the Minneapolis (now Los Angeles) Lakers.

The explosive Bucks are led by 7-foot-2 Lew Alcindor, the league's most valuable player and top scorer, and Oscar Robertson, the veteran guard who hasn't played on a championship team since high school.

Birmingham Shuts Out Travs 4-0

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Sammy Ellis allowed Arkansas only four hits as Birmingham blanked the Travelers 4-0 Monday night.

The Traveler hits, all singles, came in the first six innings. Ellis, now 3-0, retired the last 12 Arkansas batters in order. He struck out six of the last 12.

Doug King paced the Athletics with a homer and an RBI double. The home run came in the fourth inning against starter-loser Dennis Daboli, who left for a pinch-hitter after five innings.

Left-hander Rudy Arroyo is scheduled to pitch the final game of the series against Birmingham tonight. Outfielder Danny Napoleon, who has been away for three days because of an illness in his family, is expected back tonight.

Kimpel Upsets U.S. Walker Star

By KEN ALTYA
Associated Press Sports Writer
PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — As expected the spotlight was focused on Canadian Gary Cowan, the defending champion, and seven members of the U.S. Walker Cup team who won opening round matches in the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament Monday.

However, true to the tradition of the game, an outsider has served notice on the youngsters that the veterans should not be held lightly.

Ray Kimpel, a 46-year-old lawyer from Urbana, Ill., accomplished the day's No. 1 upset by shooting even par in a 3 and 2 victory of Jim Simons, a cup team player from Butler, Pa., and Wake Forest University sophomore.

Kimpel has played here about a half-dozen times previously but never survived beyond the third round.

Before he left for the Pinehurst Country Club to meet Simons, Kimpel and his wife, Betsy, packed their clothes and checked out of their hotel. But they didn't mind having to unpack and Betsy crowded, "I'm going to pack our things again in the morning. I wouldn't mind unpacking every day."

Jim Maver of Bedford, N.Y., was Kimpel's opponent on today's 32-match second round schedule.

While Simons was losing, seven other members of the U.S. Cup team won. The team plays the British next month at St. Andrew's in Scotland.

The fastest, sharpest job was turned in by Allen Miller of Pensacola, Fla., who was six under par in a 9 and 8 runaway over H.G. Young of Newark, Del.

Miller was in the third quarter of the draw, along with cup teammates Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., and Steve Melnyk of Jacksonville.

The husky Floridian was one over par as he scored a 5 and 4 victory over Loge Jackson, a Wake Forest player from Roxboro, N.C. It was the first look at the 7,000-yard No. 2 course for Melnyk, who arrived in Pinehurst late Sunday night after competing in a California member-guest tournament.

Cowan was in the first quarter along with such contenders as Dale Morey of High Point, N.C., last year's runner-up; cup player Vinny Giles of Rich-

Stanford Disclaims Spending Fortune to Promote Jim Plunkett

By HERSCHEL NISSENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — Hanging out some off-season college football wash:

The Heisman Trophy undoubtedly will be worth a pretty penny to Jim Plunkett when he signs with the New England Patriots. Certainly a little more than the $319.03 spent directly on his behalf by the Stanford sports information office.

Stanford released that figure to put down "rumors" that the school "spent vast sums of money on the promotion of Jim Plunkett." According to sports information director Bob Murphy, "Someone as near by as San Jose pegged the figure at $25,000."

Murphy figures the cost this way. Following the Washington State game last Oct. 17, in which Plunkett broke the NCAA career total offense record, Stanford produced a brochure nominating Plunkett as a Heisman candidate. Initially, 1,000 copies of the four-page, two-color flyer were distributed to key media people around the country at a cost of $268.91.

A few weeks later it became necessary to order 500 more Heisman brochures. That bill ran $50.12. And most of that batch went to Stanford backers and other football fans, not to writers or broadcasters.

Stanford's goal last season was a Pacific-8 crown and the Indians got it. This year, Coach John Ralston has something else in mind.

"It would be easy for some of those on our 1971 squad—and I am including the coaches, too—to approach this season with less intensity and determination than a year ago. Because you have achieved last year's goals, you sometimes make invalid assumptions for the following year," says Ralston.

"Even though we did defeat Ohio State in the Rose Bowl, we lost three games along the way and we were not ranked in the top five nationally. That, then, is our goal for 1971."

mond, Va., and Jack Voghte of Clearwater, Fla.

The second quarter was headed by national amateur champion Lanny Wadkins of Wake Forest and cup teammate Bill Hyndman of Huntington Valley, Pa., and cup alternate Joe Inman of Greensboro, N.C., his chief rival.

Perry Aims to Stop Hank Aaron's Bat

ATLANTA (AP) — "If Hank Aaron hits his 600th home run off me, he's going to have to earn it," says Gaylord Perry.

But the big San Francisco right-hander, who opens a three-game series against the Braves in Atlanta Stadium tonight, is quick to acknowledge that the Hammer takes that kind of earning power with him every time he walks to the plate.

"Aaron has done pretty well against me over the years," said Perry Monday. "You have to respect a great hitter like him."

"He is the type hitter who can hit even the good pitches." Aaron, who was temporarily hobbled by a bad knee Sunday, will be ready to go after Perry's pitching for No. 600 tonight. Watching will be a crowd of increasingly excited Braves fans — and a Giant with a special interest.

That will be Willie Mays, one of two players in baseball history to hit 600 career home runs.

When Aaron cracks his next four-bagger he will join Babe Ruth, who had 714, and Mays, who has 633, in baseball's most exclusive circle of power hitters.

The mounting excitement among the fans about Aaron's pending milestone was reflected Sunday, after the Hammer struck No. 599 in the opening game of a doubleheader against San Diego.

Aaron sat out most of the second game. But when he came to the plate as a pinch hitter in the 10th, dozens of fans raced to the seats in left field in case he hit the big one.

The Braves have offered $800 to the fan who comes up with the ball and returns it, so that it can be presented to Aaron in special ceremonies.

If the 37-year-old superstar is excited, however, he's hiding it under his characteristic calm.

"I hope I don't wait long," he said, but added, "You just

ABA Decisive Game to Be Wednesday

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Utah Stars face the Indiana Pacers Wednesday night and 11,000 roaring Indiana fans in the seventh and decisive game of the American Basketball Association West Division playoff.

It took 4½ hours Monday for the Pacer ticket office to sell 9,147 tickets and after a sellout statement by the ticket manager standing room tickets priced at $1 were put on sale. About $1,000 standing room tickets were sold before the office closed Monday, the first day for ticket sales for the final game of the series.

The defending ABA champion Pacers have come back from the brink of disaster. Down by 3 games to one, the Pacers have won the last two contests to even the series 3-3.

Indiana evened the series Saturday night with a 105-102 triumph over the Utah team in

Lack of Roughage Cited

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Did you know that constipation, cancer of the colon and rectum, heart disease, diabetes and appendicitis, all have something in common? They do—the modern western diet. Medical World News recently reported that Dr. Denis Burkitt, a famous British specialist, stirred up a hornet's nest at a recent national meeting by pointing out that cancer of the colon and rectum was common in the "civilized nations" and rare in undeveloped countries.

The main problem seems to be that we eat too much refined foods without enough cellulose or roughage in the diet. Nutrients are often extracted from the natural food source. Sugar is a classic example.

The truth is civilized man's diet is short on vegetables, fruits and unrefined grains which contain not only cellulose but large amounts of water. Our low-residue diet contains lots of white bread, confections, fat and foods composed of large amounts of fat. These foods move very slowly through the small bowel and result in hard, small constipated stools.

Individuals who eat a diet that contains many more vegetables and fruit and avoid the low residue or refined foods, usually do not have the same problems with constipation. Not only is the cellulose and bulk added to the diet but there is the additional water in the food. These foods move through the digestive tract at nearly twice the speed of the refined, low-residue foods.

There was some disagreement among authorities concerning how the diet plays its role but almost all the authorities seemed to agree that cancer of the colon and rectum was indeed related to environmental factors. This raised the possibility that it could be prevented by the proper approach.

Dr. Lauren Ackerman pointed out that colon cancer was very rare in the maize-eating Bantu tribesmen in Africa. The United States and Canada have the highest incidence of colon and rectal cancer in the world while Asia, Africa and South America have a low incidence. Adding further weight to the role of environmental factors was Dr. Walter Burdette's observation that Africans and Chinese who migrated to the United States soon had rates very similar to those noted in the European American.

There you have it — one more bit of evidence that the

By Oswald & James Jacoby
The monthly bulletin of the International Bridge Press Association gives some interesting hands prepared by Swedish expert Jan Wohlin. The point of today's hand is care at trick one. If South is careless and wins the first diamond, good defense will defeat four spades.

If South ducks that first diamond he is going to win the rubber. West's best continuation is a second diamond. South wins this and plays his ace of spades. East shows out and South must find a way to avoid the loss of a heart trick. He has already lost a diamond and nothing can be done about either the ace of clubs or the queen of trumps.

His next play should be the king of clubs. He continues clubs until East wins. East can't afford to lead a diamond. That will give South a ruff and discard. If he leads back a heart South must play low from his hand. If he leads back a club South just wins.

In either of these last instances, South cashes his king of trumps, plays any clubs that are still left and throws West in with the queen of trumps.

West must now lead from the king of hearts or give South a ruff and discard. If South makes the mistake of grabbing the first diamond East will be able to gain the lead twice. Each time he gets in he must lead a heart and the second heart lead will insure a heart trick for the defense.

patterns of civilization and the way we live have a lot to do with our health. It's not only heart disease that plagues us, but also constipation and cancer of the colon and rectum.

There is no more fertile area for advancement in medicine than studying man's relationship to his total living patterns, for within these is the root of a good many of man's current medical problems.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have a friend who constantly thinks about cancer. I am very concerned for her. Will thinking like this make her neurotic?

Dear Reader—She probably already is. Excessive concern about illness, such as cancer, is a manifestation of anxiety and usually indicates some underlying emotional problem.

HELP FOR JUDGES
DALLAS (AP)—Judges in criminal courts here may yet free themselves of administrative duties.

The seven judges have approved a proposal calling for one administrative assistant for non-judicial matters and for seven briefing lawyers.

The administrative assistant would serve all seven judges, while each judge would have a briefing attorney.

The cost would be about $100,000 a year.

U.S. Passenger Service to Start May 1

By CARL C. CRAFT
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — Unhappy unions, organized passengers, irate congressmen and now Ralph Nader have ganged up on Amtrak as the corporation prepares for its May Day takeover of most intercity passenger train service.

But despite challenges in court and on Capitol Hill, officials for Amtrak otherwise called the National Railroad Passenger Corp., are trying to stay on schedule and start operations Saturday of a network providing 184 trains linking 114 major cities.

Standing in their way are: Unions seeking a federal court injunction against Amtrak as part of their attack on the system's provisions to protect workers, an association of passengers preparing a legal move to extend the life of trains doomed to discontinuance once Amtrak takes control, and 11th-hour hearings by the Senate Commerce Committee.

Another obstacle is Ralph Nader, the consumer-protection advocate. In a letter to Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana, an opponent of the corporation's plans, Nader urged Congress to "repudiate the Railpax (Amtrak) concept and replace it with a viable mechanism to serve the public."

"Congress, in its haste to avoid the industry's threats of massive passenger discontinuances and widespread bankruptcies," he said, "has created an SST on rails, a form of private socialism that is inimical to worthy American traditions."

Nader said the plan to cut service in half is an "arrogant, unilateral determination to junk historical and needed services" that will generate more reliance on automobiles.

Meanwhile, a spokesman for the Railway Labor Executives Association said his group and the Congress of Railway Unions sued in U.S. District Court here "in connection with protective conditions which are not in accord with the minimum prescribed by law." He said 26,000 employees would be adversely affected with the discontinuance of the trains.

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Commission on Coordination of Higher Educational Finance Monday ordered its chairman to confer with Gov. Dale Bumpers about his choice of a director to head the new Department of Higher Education.

Dr. Olin M. Cook is the executive director of the commission.

HELEN HELP US!

by Helen Bottel

THE FRUIT OF LONELINESS

Dear Helen:

Can you help? I'm not on drugs or anything. I'm just a mixed-up girl.

Always covering up my real feelings. Never Listening. Only hearing the watch go tick tick.

Supposed to be studying, But too dumb to do it. Just passing grades. With Cs or Ds and sometimes Fs.

I want to talk But no one listens. They don't want to hear MY troubles. Because they're too busy with their own.

So I turn them off, too. And they think I'm hateful and ungrateful. When I'm dying inside for someone to really know me. People don't understand the way I talk.

So I clam up. I want to do good, But I just can't break the ice. It's such a dull world When you can't reach anybody.

I'm not dumb enough to kill myself.

Though I've felt like it. I've got to do something, But I don't know what's the matter with me.

Help me please.—HELPLESS Dear Helpless:

You've described, very touchingly, the loneliness that comes to everyone—sometimes—and to some most of the time. I'd guess you're so shy and easily hurt that it takes only a few rebuffs to turn you off. And if you're "never listening," how can you hear those who could help?

Knowing my readers, I'm sure I'll receive scores of letters offering you their friendship. If you'll send me your name and address, I'll mail you the best; for sometimes just being aware there are people who understand and care is enough to break down the wall—and then you can start helping yourself.—H.

Dear Helen: The letter from "Teenage Bride" made me sick. It's really too bad life isn't a bowl of cherries. I'd like this self-pitying 17-year-old to know I've got her beat by one year.

You see, I was only 16 when I had to get married. I, too, quit school—a school I enjoyed. I, too, had to make sacrifices and face the memories and gossip, but I believed this was the only way my unborn child could have a normal life—and my guy felt that way too! It wasn't all romance and roses, but it was still mostly wonderful because we loved each other.

As for housework, I enjoyed it because it was our house. I loved cooking, because I was cooking for HIM. And when the baby came, we took turns feeding and changing her and we were the proudest parents in the world.

I'm 20 now, have two children, and our marriage is happier than ever. If I had one wish, I guess I'd reset the clock so I could have that diploma and not know the humiliation of unwed pregnancy. But you see, I don't have one wish and I won't waste time in regrets. I know God's there when I see Him in my babies' smiles.

As for "Teenage Bride" who dreams of all the school dances she missed—it's too bad some of us just grow old and don't grow up—A PROUD MAMA

Protestors Gather at SS Office

By HARRISON HUMPHRIES

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — A small group of antiwar protesters demonstrated at the national draft headquarters today and four of them were allowed inside to talk with Selective Service employees.

Draft Director Curtis W. Tarr, who had promised Monday to allow a larger delegation inside, backed off this morning after receiving police reports that some demonstrators would try to invade offices to speak with employees instead of remaining in the public information office designated as the meeting ground.

Officials admitted a group of four headed by Merle Snyder, 18, of Goshen, Ind.

Snyder was a member of the "Peoples Lobby" which wanted to visit headquarters employees in their offices and try to talk them into quitting Selective Service.

A police spokesman estimated the crowd outside at about 150.

The demonstration was peaceful and there were no arrests.

Protesters aimed at Selective Service as their second target in a week-long prelude to May Day disruptions designed to shut down government agencies.

Senate in Debate of Health Plan

By JOHN STOWELL

Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Leonard Woodcock, president of the United Auto Workers, declared today the nation's health insurance industry has failed the working man and added to the fires of inflation.

He urged it be replaced by a federally run health insurance plan.

Woodcock, declaring health care is a necessary right, not a luxury, denounced President Nixon's plan to give more responsibility to private health insurance firms.

He endorsed strongly a plan sponsored by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., which would give the government the principal role.

Woodcock told the Senate Finance Committee private health insurance plans have failed to keep their promise throughout a history of what he called unparalleled failure: failure to control costs, failure to assure quality medical care, failure to respond to human needs.

In a lengthy indictment of health insurance Woodcock even challenged the name, saying what the industry provides is not health insurance but sickness insurance. And he said President Nixon's proposal is no better.

He said the administration's plan provides nothing for part time or seasonal workers, nothing for workers who are laid off or on strike, no new benefits for the elderly and nothing for employees of federal or state governments.

He said the only solution is to replace private firms almost totally.

In other testimony the Kennedy health bill was endorsed by Andrew J. Bieimiller, a spokesman for the AFL-CIO.

CAMPUSES ARE QUIETER
DALLAS (AP) — Dr. Duncan Wimpress, president of San Antonio's Trinity University, says that American college campuses are quieter this year because students have seen that violence is both frightening and non-productive.

"Blowing up buildings won't enhance their education," says Dr. Wimpress. "Students now realize this."

GOP Says Humphrey Is No.1 Democrat

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Republican National Committee, after examining political tea leaves, has pronounced Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey "the odds-on favorite" for the 1972 Democratic presidential nomination if Sen. Edward M. Kennedy stays out of the running.

Humphrey looked over the GOP analysis, laughed, and said he appreciates the billing.

The GOP's weekly newsletter said Sen. Edmund S. Muskie of Maine, the Democratic front-runner, is "slipping fast," and Humphrey stands to benefit.

"When the political estate of Ed Muskie is divided among his heirs—in the spring of 1972—his old mentor and patron, Hubert Horatio Humphrey, will emerge as his principal beneficiary," the Republicans said. "That's our prediction now—that is where the tea leaves point today."

The Republicans said Humphrey has moved up in the polls of Democratic opinion, while Muskie has dipped.

"The new Humphrey recruits are either defectors or deserters from the Muskie camp, and there is nothing to stop this steady attrition," the GOP newsletter said. "For Humphrey is quietly and actively promoting it. Moving about the country, getting exposure, garnering publicity, stressing his availability—Humphrey is consciously pumping himself up in the Democratic preference polls."

The Republican analysis said Humphrey's strategy evidently is to avoid the early presidential primaries, "and to emerge after these free-for-alls as the only unbloody centrist Democrat."

"It's always nice to get top billing, even in a Republican propaganda sheet," said Humphrey, the former vice president and 1968 nominee for the White House, now back in his old job as senator from Minnesota.

The Republicans also said, however, that Humphrey

Mr. Graham was born in Prescott, and served in the Southwest Pacific during World War II as a See Bee. Prior to enlisting he had worked as a civil engineer and upon returning from service joined the Missouri-Pacific Railroad as yard clerk.

In his 22 years with the Missouri-Pacific he handled a number of positions including Warehouse Foreman and Chief Clerk in Gurdon, Arkansas and General Clerk in Arkadelphia, Hope and Malvern. In 1967 Mr. Graham joined the Prescott and Northwestern Railroad as assistant to the Resident Manager, Mr. O. W. Watkins.

Mr. Graham was appointed resident manager in 1970 when Mr. Watkins retired. Mr. Graham has served as an alderman of the City of Prescott and is a deacon in the First Baptist Church there. He will reside in Prescott.

The Republicans also said Humphrey couldn't count on the support of Democrats still identified with former President Lyndon B. Johnson, and faces trouble with organized labor for his Senate vote against the supersonic transport airplane subsidy.

Bombing to Be Cut by 25 Pct.

WASHINGTON (AP) — U.S. fighter-bomber operations in Southeast Asia will be cut about another 25 per cent in the coming year, reducing them to the lowest level since early in the air war, Pentagon sources say.

Current planning calls for a monthly average of about 7,500 Air Force fighter-bomber sorties in South Vietnam, Laos and Cambodia during the fiscal year starting July 1, the sources said.

That represents a drop of some 2,500 from this year's average of 10,000 sorties a month. A sortie is a single flight by a single plane.

Even before the planned new reduction, fighter-bomber operations have fallen about 50 per cent below the war peak of almost 19,600 a month in fiscal 1968.

Meanwhile, the number of B52 bomber sorties, temporarily up to 1,200 a month because of the intense air campaign to shut off enemy supplies flowing through Laos, will be down to 1,000 a month in the coming fiscal year.

While U.S. ground combat responsibilities are due to end this summer, American war planes will continue to support South Vietnamese troops at least for another year.

As the South Vietnamese air force gradually assumes the principal task, the weight of U.S. air power is expected to concentrate almost entirely on the North Vietnamese supply lines through Laos and Cambodia.

President Nixon has indicated some U.S. air power will remain in the war zone as long as North Vietnam holds Americans prisoner and until the South Vietnamese develop the capacity to defend themselves against a takeover.

Four squadrons of F100 fighter-bombers are due to be withdrawn from South Vietnam this summer, followed by three squadrons of F4 Phantoms later in the fiscal year.

The United States will keep a couple of squadrons of F4s and another few squadrons of AC119 gunships in South Vietnam throughout the coming fiscal year, according to present plan.

Along with its B52 bombers in Thailand, the United States will retain about eight squadrons of F4s, plus several squadrons of other fighter-bombers, light bombers and gunships whose principal target is the Ho Chi Minh trail.

Set Deadline for Pulaski Districting

NORTH LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Four state legislators from Pulaski County said Monday that if a redistricting plan is not filed by the end of the week they will ask the state Supreme Court to order the state Board of Apportionment to produce a plan.

The statement was made at a news conference in North Little Rock by Reps. Leon Holstead, Ralph Patterson and Bob Traylor of North Little Rock and Rep. Art Givens of Sherwood.

If a plan is not filed by the end of this week, "we have no alternative but to file a suit in the state Supreme Court for a writ of mandamus," the legislators said in a prepared statement.

All four legislators said they favored single-member districts for both houses of the legislature.

"It is highly probable that any plan submitted will be attacked in the courts," Givens said. "So the problem is to get this thing set so it can be attacked and decided before the election."

Contempt Charge Hits Panther Case

By F. RICHARD CICCONE

Associated Press Writer
CHICAGO (AP) — The future actions of a special grand jury investigating the death of two Black Panthers in a police raid have been clouded by contempt citation against the special prosecutor.

Barnabas F. Sears, 68, the special prosecutor, is under a $50-an-hour, around-the-clock fine imposed Monday by Judge Joseph A. Power after Sears refused to call more witnesses before the special jury. The fine matches Sears' hourly salary.

Power said he wanted the special jury to hear all witnesses who testified last year before a federal grand jury which investigated the police raid. Sears argued that the judge had no authority to tell him or the jurors whom they should call. Judge Power ordered the jury investigation continued and said it could not conclude until it heard from all those who appeared before the federal grand jury.

Sears met with 23 grand jurors for two hours after the judge's order but declined comment on what decisions were reached.

If Judge Power is upheld, if Sears refuses to comply with the order and if the grand jury does not request to hear all the witnesses, then according to the judge's ruling, the jurors would be suspended in a do-nothing posture.

Meanwhile, State's Atty. Edward V. Hanrahan reportedly appeared at the grand jury room while Judge Power was disciplining Sears in open court before the grand jury.

A neighborhood newspaper chain reported Sunday the panel was prepared to indict Hanrahan and other top officials on charges of obstructing justice.

Hanrahan's office authorized the Dec. 4, 1969 raid in which two Illinois Panther party leaders, Fred Hampton, 21, and Mark Clark, 22, were slain.

Judge Richard B. Adkisson gave each a 21-month jail sentence and fines totaling $1,350, of which $850 was suspended. Adkisson gave each until Aug. 1 to pay the fines.

Charged were Isaiah Jones, 31, and Joe M. Hill, 26, both of Little Rock, who were among several ABC employees indicted recently by the Pulaski County Grand Jury.

The charges for which Hill and Jones were convicted included selling wine and beer without a permit, selling wine and beer on Sunday, illegal possession of alcoholic beverages and failure to turn in confiscated liquor.

Study Plan for Freedom of Priests

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
AP Religion Writer

DETROIT (AP) — Faced with an unprecedented array of research findings, the nation's Roman Catholic bishops today weighed recommendations for broadening the freedoms of American priests.

At the start of the bishops' semiannual meeting, John Cardinal Krol of Philadelphia said results of the studies "will provide a sound basis for future instructions, directives and action."

Two of the studies, on sociological and psychological factors, found that most priests favor ending the Church's requirement of celibacy and want a free choice on the matter.

A theological study concludes that celibacy is not essential to the priesthood, in the total Christian perspective, and that there are scriptural and pastoral grounds for ordaining women.

Cardinal Krol, chairman of a general studies committee, told a news conference Monday the findings "beyond any question" would have an effect on thinking of the bishops.

Asked if it were possible the bishops would support changes allowing married priests, he said: "It is possible, but probability is a different matter. I have reservations about the probability."

However, it was the first time the country's bishops—about 250 of them—have taken up the issue in such an open, extensively analytical way. Their aim is to shape a position on it to present at an international Synod of Bishops in Rome next fall.

The international meeting, too, is to deal with the role and rules of the priesthood, and only the world synod, with papal sanction, could authorize the changes back by the U.S. study reports.
